

INVESTMENT BANKING ANALYST – CHEMICALS & MATERIALS

Grace Matthews is a chemical industry focused investment banking firm based in Milwaukee, WI, that provides corporate and institutional clients with merger, acquisition, divestiture, and corporate finance advisory services.

Responsibilities

The successful candidates will work directly with senior Grace Matthews professionals on all aspects of client engagements, providing extensive analytical and quantitative support. Specific responsibilities will include:

- Performing company-specific and industry research and analysis
- Preparing offering memoranda and other presentation documents
- Developing valuation models using various methodologies, including discounted cash flow, leveraged buyout, industry trading comparables, and comparable transactions
- Supporting all aspects of the due diligence process
- Supporting transaction negotiation through closing
- Attending key transaction meetings, including meaningful interactions with clients

Qualifications

Grace Matthews is seeking candidates with an excellent academic background, strong quantitative aptitude and exceptional written and verbal communication skills. As this position will support Grace Matthews' Chemicals investment banking team, candidates who hold a degree in Chemical Engineering, Chemistry, or related sciences are encouraged to apply. Additional coursework in accounting, finance, or economics is recommended, but not required. We are open to all majors and have training to make sure you succeed. You should demonstrate an unparalleled work ethic and the ability to work under pressure. Proficiency in Microsoft Excel, Word, and PowerPoint is required. A minimum undergraduate GPA of 3.5 is required.

You will receive a highly-competitive compensation package, with strong opportunities for career development. Grace Matthews is a challenging place to work, but unlike some other investment banking environments, we believe in striking an appropriate balance between a rewarding career and a healthy personal life outside the office.

About Grace Matthews

Grace Matthews' practice is international in scope and focuses on three areas: sell-side transactions (private companies, divestitures for large multi-national corporations and private equity held businesses); buy-side projects (typically for major multi-nationals); and financing, where we raise debt and/or equity capital to support private equity sponsored management buy-outs or recapitalizations.
